Ohio Assembly Eyes Boost in Idle Benefits

House Shuns Bill To Put Limit on Campaign Spending

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House today reaches one of its key decisions of the present legislative session—how much increase to grant recipients of unemployment compensation.

The decision will come less than 24 hours after a House defeat for a bill which would have set stringent limits on campaign spending. It also will come on the heels of House passage of a Senate-approved bill to increase pensions of public employees, teachers and school employees by about 10 per cent.

The unemployment compensation bill would increase the maximum jobless benefit to an individual from $33 to $42 a week and increase benefits for the head of a household to a maximum of $53 a week—$5 for the first dependent, including a spouse, and $3 each for the next two dependents.

Present law calls for a maximum of two dependency allowances of $2 each—a maximum of $39 on any single jobless benefits claim.

The House Monday defeated by a 57 yeas, 70 no vote a bill to put the clamps on political spending—a maximum of a full term's salary on bids for state office and lower limits for lesser offices. Ten House Democrats joined Republicans in opposing the bill sponsored by the administration of Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

House approval of the Senate bill to boost future pensions for an estimated 250,000 public and school employees and teachers virtually completes its passage.

Among other things, the pension bill increases the contributions of its members from 6 to 7 per cent of their earnings. It also increases governmental contributions toward the state's three big pension funds about 10½ million dollars a year.

The pension bill already has been approved by the Senate. Unanimous House approval completed legislative action.

Opponents of the defeated election bill asserted it would create confusion and lead to many court actions. Said Rep. Roger Cloud (R-Logan), House minority leader:

"State laws ought not be tampered with without careful research. Heretofore, we assumed that if spending was excessive, public reaction would defeat a candidate. No one has told me that a reform is needed."

Rep. R. Martin Galvin (D-Lucas), a co-sponsor, told the House curbs are needed because campaign spending "has been rising over the years at a dangerous rate."

The House also defeated a bill to allow the state board of education to fill vacancies among its own membership. With 70 yeas required, the House tally was 68-50.

The House reconsidered and passed, 108-6, a bill to require traffic warning signs erected after next Jan. 1 to be reflectorized. The measure now goes to the Senate.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill to create six new municipal courts: Fairfield (Butler County), Vandalia and Kettering (Montgomery County), Wilmington, Perrysburg (Wood County) and Wyoming, a Cincinnati suburb.

The House bill also expands the jurisdictions of several other courts: Lorain to Sheffield Lake, Elyria to Leverage and Ridge-

Respected Businessman Proves Most Wanted

DES MOINES (AP)—A quiet, respected Des Moines service station operator, who hid his identity for two years, was seized by FBI agents Monday night as one of the nation's 10 most wanted fugitives. George E. Cole, 32, who went under the name of James Walker, was picked up by agents at the station he leased. He told them "he was expecting arrest sooner or later."

Cole is accused of fatally shooting a San Francisco police sergeant during an attempted cocktail lounge holdup on Dec. 30, 1956.

Four Injured in Three-Car Crash at Pickaway-Ohio Sts.

Four persons were injured in an unusual three-car accident at Pickaway and Ohio Sts. at 8:40 p. m. yesterday.

Three of the injured were riding in one car. The auto was driven by John W. Clifton, 65, Route 1, South Webster, who suffered contusions and abrasions of the shoulder and arm.

Madge Clifton, 47, a passenger, suffered a scalp laceration and abrasions and contusions. Robert Lee Clifton, 14, another passenger, received multiple abrasions and contusions and possible internal injuries.

The second auto was operated by Myrtle Guess, 33, of 702 Maplewood Ave. She suffered possible broken ribs.

THE INJURED persons were taken to Berger Hospital where they were admitted.

The third auto involved was driven by Ward Tackett, 38, of 334 E. Main St. He was not injured. Clifton told Police Sgt. Leroy Hawks and Patrolman Wesley Barton that he was northbound on Pickaway St. and failed to see a stop sign at the Ohio St. intersection.

Sgt. Hawks said the Clifton car smashed into the Guess car which was headed west on Ohio St. He said the impact forced the Guess car into Tackett's south-

Farm Family Crossing U.S. On Tractor

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—When they first put rubber tires on farm tractors, Jim Clark got an idea. So he and his family are on a cross-country tractor trip.

Clark, a 34-year-old farmer from Marion, Ohio, came chugging into Lancaster County Monday night with his wife, Marie, Larry, 11, and Janice, 8.

"It's just something I always thought would be fun to do, so I'm doing it," he said. "We're planning to take our time, traveling mostly by back roads, and we're heading for Seaside, Ore."

The tractor is a big job, with a glass-enclosed cab where the family rides. Behind is a trailer, carrying their belongings.

They started Monday from Ocean City, N. J., and covered about 130 miles on the first day, averaging 25 to 30 m.p.h.

The idea for the trip came to Clark some years ago, when rubber tires were first used on tractors, making it possible to drive them faster and with a minimum amount of discomfort.

Tokyo Transit System To Resort to Perfume

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo's public transport system is going to try perfume to ease the ordeal of commuting in summer heat. Six hundred streetcars and buses, about half the city's supply, will carry perfumed bouquets during the evening rush hour. The scent will be a mixture of lily, jasmine and rose.

Ike Vetoes Housing Bill Calling It 'Extravagant'

Jaycees Initiate Insect Controls

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce today announced plans to conduct a program for control of mosquitos, flies, ants and other bothersome insects.

The local Jaycees plan to "fog" Circleville areas with an effective insecticide called "Thanticide". Ohio State University Agricultural Department chemists have analyzed the insecticide's ingredients and given their approval.

The OSU chemists report that "Thanticide" is an excellent mixture for the control of insects. It is harmless to humans, they said.

The insecticide will be applied in a cloud or fogging manner. A small machine, called a "Dyna-fogger Jr." will be mounted on a pickup truck and will spray the insecticide throughout city areas.

THE PICKUP truck will drive at a speed of approximately five miles per hour to assure effective coverage. The fog or spray is odorless within a few seconds after release.

Each spraying will be effective from two to three weeks. There is no danger from fogging to humans, gardens, flowers, pets or any other warm blooded animals, experts explained.

The Jaycees will fog as often as necessary throughout the summer to control all insects. The spray will eliminate all types of nuisance insects and enable residents to sit on the outside and be free of insect bites for the duration of the summer.

The Jaycees will conduct a door-to-door solicitation campaign at 6:30 p. m. today to collect donations for payment of the fogging project. All residents are asked to pay their share of this insect elimination project.

Dunmore Road was sprayed Saturday as a test area and residents report excellent results. Residents there had reported a heavy infestation of mosquitos. They now say they are not bothered by insects of any type.

Man To Sail To Sweden; He's Just 70

CLINTON, Conn. (AP) — John C. H. Wendes is a 70-year-old man who wants nothing less than to see the land of his youth—Sweden. His task of turning a dream to reality is awesome. He is sailing the Atlantic in a 35-foot sailboat.

Weather permitting, Wendes leaves today with two younger men aboard his "Viking."

Wendes' romantic journey seems practical and safe to him. Of the boat, he said: "I believe it can go anywhere the Queen Mary could go. A small boat will stay atop the waves."

His crew will consist of Charles Piek, 37, a consulting engineer from Washington, D.C., and Earl Potts, 27, an employee of the Maryland State Penitentiary.

Three men have sailed the Atlantic alone from the Straits of Gibraltar to New York. Wendes came to the United States at 25. He worked at the U.S. Rubber Co. in Naugatuck for 28 years and when he retired in 1954 he was chief engineer and production manager.

"Last January my wife died. This left me free to go where I pleased. So I sold my house and started to plan the cruise. I'm in very good shape. When it comes to work I can tire out a man half my age."

Senators Say Same Thing on Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today vetoed the omnibus housing bill, calling it extravagant and inflationary. He asked that Congress produce a less costly measure.

In a special message to the Senate, Eisenhower expressed disappointment that Congress had sent him a bill "so excessive in the spending it proposes, and so defective in other respects, that it would do far more damage than good."

His message attacked several key provisions of the $1,375,000,000 measure but he made inflation his basic objections to the measure.

This was the fourth major veto by the President this session.

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana had told reporters earlier that he had recommended a veto.

Meanwhile, Senate Democrats aimed a budget-cutting drive at President Eisenhower's foreign aid program today.

The immediate target was the $1,600,000,000 Eisenhower asked for military arms aid abroad. Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) wants to cut this by 550 million dollars in the first of a series of fund-cutting amendments Democrats have proposed.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the GOP leader, told reporters he thought there would be sufficient votes from both Democrats and Republicans to defeat any substantial cuts in the pending $3,924,820,000 foreign aid authorization bill.

But Sens. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala) and Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), who normally support foreign aid programs, said they thought some cuts could be made without causing damage.

Eisenhower calls the foreign aid program a keystone of American foreign policy and says it is vital to the free world's defense against international Communist aggression.

Party Is Too Rough for One Couple But 14 Others Lick Colorado Rapids

I figured I might not see it come up a third time. I'd had it."

The party started June 28 in Green River, Utah. Led by Holmes O. Miller of Bakersfield, the 16 men, women and children embarked in three rubber rafts.

They set out to drift down the Green and Colorado rivers to the outpost of Hite. Flying in a straight line, they would have traveled about 80 miles. Following the river, the distance probably is twice that.

Experts like Jim Hurst, operator of the Green River Airport, tried to talk them out of the trip. Too rough, they said — especially with women, two teen-age girls and an 11-year-old boy along.

When they insisted they could make it, Hurst said well, then, if they didn't show up in Hite by Saturday night, July 4, he'd start looking.

The trip down the Green was a lark.

Then the Green joined the Colorado. Boiling with foam and whirlpools, the Colorado shot the rafts

Tear Gas Quells Convicts Holding Visitors Hostage

MONROE, Wash. (AP)—Thirty-eight hostages held for 13½ terror-filled hours by four "kill crazy" young convicts were freed unharmed at the state reformatory today in a surprise tear gas attack.

Armed officers carried out the rescue at 4:03 a.m. two hours before the third and latest deadline set by the rebelling prisoners. Reformatory officials said it went "like clockwork."

The rebels who had armed themselves with butcher knives and long forks in the kitchen Thursday afternoon in the abortive escape attempt, threatened violence only to the three guards held hostage.

House Trailer Owners Fail To Pay Taxes

Pickaway County Auditor Mrs. Marvina H. Rhoades today stated that only a small portion of county house trailer owners have paid their 1959 mobile home tax.

Auditor Rhoades said proper announcement of the tax obligation was made. She said the tax should have been paid from April 1 through April 30.

Failure to pay the house trailer tax in the allotted time carries a penalty of $25. Mobile home owners are now obligated to pay a $43 tax.

The house trailer tax covers the year starting April 1 through March 31, 1960. The tax is due and payable immediately upon occupancy of human habitation of the house trailer.

IF THE OWNER of a house trailer fails to pay the tax within the prescribed time, the county auditor, in addition to any other remedy provided by law for the collection of taxes, shall enforce collection by a civil action.

Informed sources here say that many observers are disappointed at the failure of mobile home owners to pay this minor tax. They state that house trailer owners do not pay their share of school expense to educate their children and now refuse to pay any tax at all.

School support is derived from real estate taxes of which mobile home owners pay none. According to the records, all house trailer taxes leave the county and are used for state government support.

Auditor Rhoades plans to warn house trailer owners once more before instituting civil action to enforce delinquent tax payments.

Persons who purchase and move into a house trailer between April 1 and July 1 owe a tax of $18.

Purchase and habitation of a mobile home between July 1 and October owe $13.50; between October 1 and January 1, $9, and between January 1 and April 1, $4.50.

Lausche Casts Eye At 60 Nomination

CLEVELAND (AP)—U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche has indicated that he will try for a place on the Democratic ticket in the presidential election next year.

"Presently I should not be counted out as a probable candidate in the presidential primary in Ohio," the senator said Monday night as he prepared to return to Washington after a four-day visit here.

He would not elaborate on his plans. It was learned from other sources, however, that he is not interested in being a "favorite son" candidate for president.

7th Red Spy Executed

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A Thai accused of being Communist agent was executed Monday night without a trial. It was the seventh such execution since Marshal Sarit Thanarat resumed active direction of the government.

One of the guards, Hugh DeWalt, said the desperadoes told the officers to start praying because they would be thrown out of the window dead if their demands for freedom were not met.

Twenty-four visitors, many of them women and children, and 11 other prisoners who had been visiting relatives, also were held through the late afternoon and night in the barricaded visitors' room. They were treated fairly well, however.

The four rebels were quickly subdued as the tear gas sent the occupants stumbling, weeping and choking from the room.

The four were ordered placed in isolation.

Lawrence Delmore, state supervisor of adult correction, praised the reformatory staff for the smoothly executed rescue.

"We picked the time; we picked the battlefield," he said.

"We knew from 11 p.m. on what we were going to do. It was a matter of allowing enough time so that the women and children would be down asleep. We didn't want anybody to get hurt."

An officer said surprise was the factor of success. A guard crept close to the room and hurled a tear gas shell. The charge followed.

A prison guard, William McKelvie, who had talked to the prisoners on several occasions, called two of the convicts to the broken window in the hostage room.

At a signal, McKelvie dropped to the floor and officer John Martin fired a gas blast from a gun almost into the faces of the convicts.

Officers behind them then broke into the room, subdued the convicts and rescued the hostages.

Mary Turner, 24, wife of one of 11 inmates held hostage, said she was asleep holding her baby when the officers rushed the door. Mrs. Turner said everyone was calm throughout the 13½-hour ordeal. She said the four rebellious inmates never touched any of the hostages, and even gave them cigarettes.

The four convicts who seized an estimated 26 to 28 visitors, three guards and 11 other convicts Monday are Richard A. Murray, 20; Donald DeCourcy, 22; Robert E. Jasmin, 22 and David K. Owens, 19.

They listed no grievances, asking only for an escape car and clear access to the Canadian border.

One of the officer hostages, Hugh DeWalt, said the convicts threatened they would throw them out of the window dead if their demands for freedom were not met by 6 a.m.

One of the most touching scenes of the rescue came when Mrs. Marlene Oxford, of Kelso, Wash., was reunited with her son, Bobby, 4.

Mrs. Oxford was visiting her husband, one of the inmate hostages. She was released Monday night when she became severely ill. She refused to leave the grounds, however, waiting for the release of her son.

Mrs. Oxford said: "They were pretty decent, those fellows who held us. They got the kids milk."

She said the women and children were not threatened although the guards held as hostages were. Several of the inmate hostages were taken to the reformatory hospital for treatment. The four convicts who attempted the escape were taken to another section of the prison under heavy guard. No one was permitted to see them or talk with them.

Queen Thrilled By Her Visit To Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—"It has been an unforgettable day."

Openly thrilled, with a smile like a sunburst, Queen Elizabeth said goodbye to Chicago Monday night after 13 exciting hours amid the roar of cheering millions and one of the triumphs of her life.

She is resuming her tour of Canada with Prince Philip today, heading north aboard the royal yacht Britannia for Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

They will be on the yacht until noon Wednesday.

The echoes of Chicago will not soon die away.

The city gave her a warm, generous, typically American reception. It was a case of mutual admiration. Elizabeth quickly caught the spirit of the crowds. She smiled. She began to wave with genuine feeling. She kept turning to Philip, chatting and laughing, as the thunder of the applause pursued them through the streets.

"We shall carry with us on the next stage of our journey, and for many years to come, a memory of the generous hospitality of Chicago which will long warm our hearts," she said.

These were her words as she rose to speak to 1,400 guests at Mayor Richard Daley's banquet in her honor, the last event on her long program. She was a glittering figure in white with a diamond and emerald tiara in her chestnut hair.

Commissioner of Police Timothy J. O'Connor calculated 2,000,000 persons saw Elizabeth during the day. They massed around Buckingham Fountain Land in Grant Park, where she stepped ashore, even before the Britannia was in sight outside the breakwater.

Education Comes Little Too Late

SPOKANE, (AP) — Henry M. Richards, assistant vice president of a downtown bank, was thumbing through a business magazine Monday when an article caught his fancy: "How To Prevent Bank Robberies."

Before Richards was finished an excited teller ran into his office shouting: "We've just been robbed."

A holdup man had just relieved the bank of $2,477.

Tear Gas Quells Convicts Holding Visitors Hostage

MONROE, Wash. (AP)—Thirty-eight hostages held for 13 1/2 terror-filled hours by four "kill crazy" young convicts were freed unharmed at the state reformatory today in a surprise tear gas attack.

Armed officers carried out the rescue at 4:03 a. m. two hours before the third and latest deadline set by the rebelling prisoners. Reformatory officials said it went "like clockwork."

The rebels who had armed themselves with butcher knives and long forks in the kitchen Thursday afternoon in the abortive escape attempt, threatened violence only to the three guards held hostage.

House Trailer Owners Fail To Pay Taxes

Pickaway County Auditor Mrs. Marvyn H. Rhoades today stated that only a small portion of county house trailer owners have paid their 1959 mobile home tax.

Auditor Rhoades said proper announcement of the tax obligation was made. She said the tax should have been paid from April 1 through April 30.

Failure to pay the house trailer tax in the allotted time carries a penalty of $25. Mobile home owners are now obligated to pay a $43 tax.

The house trailer tax covers the year starting April 1 through March 31, 1960. The tax is due and payable immediately upon occupancy of human habitation of the house trailer.

IF THE OWNER of a house trailer fails to pay the tax within the prescribed time, the county auditor, in addition to any other remedy provided by law for the collection of taxes, shall enforce collection by a civil action.

Informed sources here say that many observers are disappointed at the failure of mobile home owners to pay this minor tax. They state that house trailer owners do not pay their share of school expense to educate their children and now refuse to pay any tax at all.

School support is derived from real estate taxes of which mobile home owners pay none. According to the records, all house trailer taxes leave the county and are used for state government support.

Auditor Rhoades plans to warn house trailer owners once more before instituting civil action to enforce delinquent tax payments.

Persons who purchase and move into a house trailer between April 1 and July 1 owe a tax of $18.

Purchase and inhabitation of a mobile home between July 1 and October 31, 1959, is $13.50; between October 1 and January 1, $9, and between January 1 and April 1, $4.50.

Lausche Casts Eye At 60 Nomination

CLEVELAND (AP)—U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche has indicated that he will try for a place on the Democratic ticket in the presidential election next year.

"Presently I should not be counted out as a probable candidate in the presidential primary in Ohio," the senator said Monday night as he prepared to return to Washington after a four-day visit here.

He would not elaborate on his plans. It was learned from other sources, however, that he is not interested in being a "favorite son" candidate for president.

7th Red Spy Executed

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A Thai accused of being Communist agent was executed Monday night without a trial. It was the seventh such execution since Marshal Sarit Thanarat resumed active direction of the government.

One of the guards, Hugh DeWalt, said the desperadoes told the officers to start praying because they would be thrown out of the window dead if their demands for freedom were not met.

Twenty-four visitors, many of them women and children, and 11 other prisoners who had been visiting relatives, also were held through the late afternoon and night in the barricaded visitors' room. They were treated fairly well, however.

The four rebels were quickly subdued as the tear gas sent the occupants stumbling, weeping and choking, from the room.

The four were ordered placed in isolation.

Lawrence Delmore, state supervisor of adult correction, praised the reformatory staff for the smoothly executed rescue.

"We picked the time; we picked the battlefield," he said.

"We knew from 11 p. m. on what we were going to do. It was a matter of allowing enough time so that the women and children would be down asleep. We didn't want anybody to get hurt."

An officer said surprise was the factor of success. A guard crept close to the room and hurled a tear gas shell. The charge followed.

A prison guard, William McKelvie, who had talked to the prisoners on several occasions, called two of the convicts to the broken window in the hostage room.

At a signal, McKelvie dropped to the floor and officer John Martin fired a gas blast from a gun almost into the faces of the convicts.

Officers behind them then broke into the room, subdued the convicts and rescued the hostages.

Mary Turner, 24, wife of one of 11 inmates held hostage, said she was asleep holding her baby when the officers rushed the door. Mrs. Turner said everyone was calm throughout the 13 1/2-hour ordeal. She said the four rebellious inmates never touched any of the hostages, and even gave them cigarettes.

The four convicts who seized an estimated 26 to 28 visitors, three guards and 11 other convicts Monday are Richard A. Murray, 20; Donald DeCourcy, 22; Robert E. Jasmin, 22 and David K. Owens, 19.

They listed no grievances, asking only for an escape car and clear access to the Canadian border.

One of the officer hostages, Hugh DeWalt, said the convicts threatened they would throw them out of the window dead if their demands for freedom were not met by 6 a. m.

One of the most touching scenes of the rescue came when Mrs. Marlene Oxford, of Kelso, Wash., was reunited with her son, Bobby, 4.

Mrs. Oxford was visiting her husband, one of the inmate hostages. She was released Monday night when she became severely ill. She refused to leave the grounds, however, waiting for the release of her son.

Mrs. Oxford said: "They were pretty decent, those fellows who held us. They got the kids milk."

She said the women and children were not threatened although the guards held as hostages were.

Several of the inmate hostages were taken to the reformatory hospital for treatment. The four convicts who attempted the escape were taken to another section of the prison under heavy guard. No one was permitted to see them or talk with them.

Negotiations Resume As Steel Strike Nears

NEW YORK (AP) — With no progress toward a new contract announced, negotiators in the steel industry today faced a deadline just a week away.

July 14 is the date that a contract extension covering 500,000 workers in the basic steel industry expires.

Four-man teams representing the United Steelworkers of America and the 12 largest companies in the industry held morning and afternoon sessions Monday.

3 New Ohio Polio Cases Are Reported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Although three additional polio cases were reported last week, Ohio's 1959 total only rose from 27 to 28, the State Health Department said today.

In explanation, the department said two cases previously diagnosed as polio turned out to be something else. The three new cases were reported from Athens, Columbiana and Fairfield counties.

Auto License Distribution This Week

Pickaway County's share of 1959 auto license money totals $25,387.61 and the local townships' share is $20,818.24, according to the State Auditor's office today.

The second distribution of 1959 auto license money, totaling almost 5 1/2 million dollars, will go out this week to counties and townships in Ohio, according to State Auditor's office.

This is the money that is paid to counties and townships on the basis of the miles of county and township roads in each county or township. Counties get 9 per cent of the auto license money and townships 5 per cent according to their road mileage.

This is the first time this year that townships have shared in 1959 auto tag money. Total going to townships is $1,946,517. Counties will split $3,563,730.60. For them it is their second share of 1959 auto license money.

PAYMENTS to both counties and townships are slightly larger than they were this time last year.

This week's county-township distribution makes a total of $38,930,340 in 1959 auto tag money sent to local governments by the state this year. In April $33,480,092.40 was paid to counties and municipalities.

Lake County Race Track Deal Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Agriculture Department wants to know why the Lake County Agricultural Society has entered into racing agreements extending to 1967, Assistant Atty. Gen. Marvin Kline said today.

Kline, who is assigned to the department, said the society leases the county fairgrounds on a year-to-year basis from Lake County commissioners, but records indicate the society has contracted with a racing corporation to allow use of the fairgrounds' track every year through 1967.

He and Agriculture Director Robert H. Terhune have been studying the society's books, subpoenaed in June.

Kline added that records indicate agreements with Painesville Raceway Inc. and the Painesville Raceway Corp., and that he will ask the secretary of state if the two are separate corporations.

Records of other county fair societies may be subpoenaed later. Kline said, but he and the director first want to confer with the Monroe County Agricultural Society this week and with the Warren County Agricultural Society in the near future. The records of both groups were called in by the department for study.

familiar role of opposing Democratic efforts to cut spending.

Along with other Republican leaders, Dirksen has accused Democrats of being budget busters and spendthrifts as they sought to increase the amounts Eisenhower proposed for housing, airport construction and other activities.

Ellender, who regularly tries to cut foreign aid totals, was ready with a series of other reducing amendments.

One would cut to 500 million dollars the $35 million Eisenhower asked for defense supports, the economic aid given some allies to help them maintain military forces larger than their own economies could sustain.

Another would reduce to 100 millions the $244,620,000 in the bill for special grants to impoverished nations outside the military aid pacts.

'City of Hope' Founder Due To Retire

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — "Never take away a patient's hope. Never tell him he's going to die."

Tonight, the author of those words Samuel H. Goltzer — words that made Duarte, Calif., the site of one of the world's great medical centers — will retire.

Reflecting on more than a quarter of a century as an executive of the City of Hope, Goltzer said: "Our hospital represents a new strand of humanitarianism sorely needed by 20th century man. The big thing in life is having a sense of active participation in good works. This is the principle we have pursued."

The nondenominational City of Hope once served exclusively as a tubercular center. Now, doctors from around the world have come to Duarte to help treat those stricken with heart ailments, cancer and leukemia. Medical care is free. The hospital is supported by philanthropic contributions and national fund-raising campaigns.

Goltzer pioneered by opening a children's wing at the center. Parents were allowed to live alongside youngsters who were incurably ill.

Goltzer was of the conviction that hope should be offered, even to the incurably sick.

"Today, no one need die of tuberculosis," he said. "Many are completely cured of heart diseases, too. Tomorrow, we may find a cure for cancer and leukemia."

Rails Lead Industrial Stock Climb

NEW YORK (AP) — Rails emerged from the doldrums early this afternoon to confirm the upward drive of the industrials to record highs.

The market as a whole was only irregularly higher as it digested gains made in five straight days of advancing prices.

Key stocks showed gains or losses going from fractions to about a point. Trading was quite active.

General Motors was outstanding in a motor group that otherwise was unchanged to lower. Most of the leading steels were down.

The rails moved ahead on the basis of vastly improved loadings and also on Wall Street recommendations touting them to traders as good risks for short-term market gains.

New York Central was up more than a point and advanced about a point.

GM was ahead about a point following reports from the automotive industry, however, did little for the other motor stocks.

Anaconda dropped more than a point as the price of copper was cut at the common smelter level. Jones & Laughlin was clipped for a loss of more than a point while most other leading steels dropped fractionally.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 40 cents to $232.60 with the industrials up 20 cents, the rails up $1.10 and the utilities up 10 cents.

Capital Gain Tax Shrinks Stock Profit

Most Countries

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The bull market tempts many a stockholder to cash in today on his profits of the last year or so and invest his money in some other issue—or maybe in a new house.

But there's one thing that has stopped many of them. That is, there may be quite a bit less money to reinvest than you'd think at first glance, no matter how lucky the investor may have been in choosing his holdings.

The shrinking agent: The capital gains tax.

Most of those who take a nice profit in their stocks find they must turn 25 per cent of it over to Uncle Sam, if the stock has been held for more than six months. Held less than six months the tax bite is much deeper.

Therefore, many leave the shares in the strong box and hope the price doesn't go down.

This is one of the things making for a thin market in many issues—not enough stocks up for sale to meet the demand. And a thin market sees wide swings in prices.

Americans are among the few to pay these long-term capital gains taxes, according to the New York Stock Exchange. It lists 28 countries in which for all practical purposes such taxes aren't collected.

The exchange cites the United Kingdom as an example. It says in its official publication, The Exchange, "the difficulty of establishing a taxable transaction in the case of an individual is such that, in practice, gains realized on security transactions are ignored for tax purposes unless carried out in the regular course of business by a dealer or broker."

When the matter goes to the tax authorities or courts, the following factors are considered: The purpose of the purchase, the type of asset involved, reason for the sale and the method of sale.

Other countries in which capital gains taxes either aren't imposed or collected include: France, Italy, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Ireland, Norway, Portugal, Israel.

On this side of the Atlantic the same holds true for: Canada, Brazil, Mexico, Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Panama, Peru, Uruguay, the Bahamas and Bermuda.

Others free of the tax are: Australia, Japan, New Zealand, Pakistan and South Africa.

The U.S. Congress shows little disposition to change the capital gains tax, or any other revenue getter, this session.

The exchange cites an example of what one well-heeled American is up against. Supposing he bought $30,000 worth of certain shares two years ago and what with stock splits and climbing prices he now finds them saleable at $75,000. A capital tax gain of the $45,000 profit would be $11,250. And that could be enough to give him pause about selling.

However, if sell he must, he can take consolation in the fact that he did make a very nice gain. And he might listen to that old Wall Street wheeze: "You don't go broke taking a profit."

Girl Advice For Bosses

Newsman Receive
10 Commandments

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Seems as though a new day has dawned for girl reporters.

The 1959 report of The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. Personnel Committee has a special section devoted to "Tips on Bossing Women," explained as "10 commandments which can be followed by any managing editor to insure topnotch success in dealing with the fair sex."

Now when I first started as a cub reporter, editors didn't worry about such things. My first city editor used to look around the city room, beckon to me and say with disgust: "Since we haven't got a good man around, I guess I'll have to send you out on this assignment."

"When I came back with a scoop, he'd grunt and say grudgingly: 'well, I guess it's all right—for a woman.'"

All that is to be changed, if the nation's editors heed the APME committee recommendations, written by Chairman I. William Hill of the Washington Star. Here they are:

1. Measure a woman by her success with a job, not by her sex or your prejudice.
2. Avoid impatience with a woman; she needs to have confidence in you.
3. What ego is to a man, security is to a woman; make her feel safe and needed and she'll make you feel 10 feet tall.
4. Never desert a woman in her fear; it is not circumstances a woman fears so much as the prospect of facing them alone.
5. Never lose your temper with a woman; every woman knows the smaller the pot, the quicker it boils.
6. A woman's anger can be atomic in power; when there's a blast-off, direct the force to useful ends.
7. Never forget that a woman never forgets; her memory, compared to a man's, is as a cable to a thread.
8. As a man, provide the reason, the authority and the security to guide a woman in the use of her constant emotional drive.
9. Praise a woman on every possible occasion; her appreciation is fourfold that of man. So is her

Young Briton on Allowance May Inherit Huge Fortune

LONDON (AP)—Young Gerald Cavendish Grosvenor was saving from his 28-cent weekly allowance today to buy a toy motorboat. But he may not have to save much longer.

The chances are good that the 7-year-old will soon become one of Britain's wealthiest citizens. The money, about 28 million dollars, would come from his father who is seeking a way to beat the country's crippling inheritance taxes.

Gerald is third in line for the Duchy of Westminster — the largest private estate in Britain outside that of the royal family. Its treasures now are going on the auction block to pay off taxes incurred when the second Duke of Westminster died in 1953.

The boy's father, Lt. Col. Robert George Grosvenor, 49, who inherited a part of the estate, said he might give his son a huge sum to escape paying the taxes.

"One of the problems," Col. Grosvenor said, "is that under English law I can give my money to my son and it will not be subject to duty so long as I live for five years. But under Northern Ireland law—and we live in Ulster—I have only to live for sensitivity; she requires one-fourth the criticism.

10. Treat each woman as an individual in ways suitable to the time, the place and the woman.

Measurement Men
Keep Sharp Eye On Texas Eastern Gas

Texas Eastern Measurement Department men keep a sharp-eyed watch on the natural gas we pipe—constantly testing to keep quality high and quantities accurate.

This is no small job. In a year we move more than 600 billion cubic feet of gas. All of it has to pass a series of quality control analyses before it goes into the lines of our customers—distributors in Eastern Seaboard, Appalachian and Midwestern states.

Quality of the gas—how clean and efficiently it burns—is determined by the correct balance of fourteen chemical compounds normally found in it—and by the absence of one that is highly undesirable: hydrogen sulfide. Other tests measure the moisture content of the gas and its specific gravity.

A close watch, too, is kept on the all-important heating quality of the gas. Much higher than manufactured gas, Texas Eastern's natural gas has a heat content of about 1040 BTU per cubic foot.

And—as if the quality control job weren't enough—Measurement Men account for every cubic foot of gas that goes through the system... all 6100 miles of it, stretching from the Mexican border to the Northeast Coast. Gas is taken into the system at over 400 purchasing points located in the gas producing areas and checked out at more than 100 sales stations, located largely in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states.

A cubic foot of natural gas that whooshes out of a wellhead in Texas on a 90-degree day is a lot different in content from a cubic foot that moves through a metering point in New Jersey on a freezing day.

So, to equate the gas handled under varying temperatures and pressures, the Measurement Men use a mathematical formula that corrects for the temperature and pressure and lets us know exactly how much gas—measured in volume—we have taken into the system and how much we have sold.

All in all, Texas Eastern's Measurement Men do a king-size job of assuring the customers of a continuing supply of clean natural gas that will keep them happily cooking with gas for a long time to come.

Credit Is Indispensible

Occasionally someone takes a doleful view of the instrument of expanded consumer buying—credit—which has made great strides since World War II. It is significant that the uneasy view is not that of the Federal Reserve System, the Treasury Department or leading economists.

They recognize credit, though subject to regulation, is basic in our economic system. Credit began centuries ago when men first began to give letters of credit to customers. That grew into the banking system, which is based on credit. Without it, modern business could not function.

Without the expanding credit system, applicable now from factory raw materials through wholesaler and retailer on down to the consumer himself, the gross national product and distribution of goods and services would be at much lower level.

The economic base would be greatly restricted and jobs would be fewer.

Credit is one of the solid bases of prosperity. It is the accepted way of doing business—a stimulant for merchants and a convenience for customers. Figures on total credit are additional evidence of America's expansiveness.

Credit is not to be deplored but to be welcomed as one of the enlightened and stabilizing factors of the modern world.

Hubby Can't Answer Question

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—There is one question about wives no husband can answer.

The question is, "Why do they want to go out in the evening?"

Why? No husband ever knows. When you first marry a girl, all she says she wants in life is "to make a home." Make a home? What she means is she wants you to make a home for her.

So you rent a nice furnished room-and-a-half flat on the third floor of a walk-up apartment, and figure you've got life solved.

What happens? Inside a year she says it is too small.

"We need a home of our own to be really happy," she says. "Just a little cottage out in the country."

So you pawn your soul to the banker, and buy her a little cottage in the suburbs. In another year she's restless again.

"All I want is to make you a nice home," she says. "But what is home without a child?"

So you give her a child. You give her three children. Anything to keep her quiet.

So what happens? One day she announces:

"I feel like the old lady in the shoe in this little box of a house. We're too crowded. Why don't we get a bigger house farther out in the country where I can have a garden. That's all in this world I want."

So you take your soul again to the banker and buy her a house twice as big and four times as expensive. You buy her enough flower and vegetable seeds to feed China.

You buy her a rake and a hoe and a power mower. You rent her a landscape man "to give the house a proper setting."

"Now we'll have to fix up the inside of the house—if we're really going to have a dream home," she says.

Back you go to the banker. So you buy your wife the latest modern furniture, plus wall-to-wall carpeting and ceiling-to-floor draperies. You build a fine entertainment room in the basement, complete with games table and well-stocked bar. It has a television set. So has the living room.

You have a total of five radios throughout the house, so your wife can hear music wherever she goes. You buy her a sewing machine, an automatic dishwasher, an electric washer, dryer and iron, a vacuum cleaner, an electric hair dryer, an electric massage machine, a home freezer that will hold a three-month supply of food.

You think you have thought of everything, but you haven't.

"It would be ideal here, if it didn't get so hot in summer," murmurs your wife. So you go to the banker—by now he is calling you buy your first name—and borrow enough to air-condition the house.

So you enlarge the garage and buy a second car.

You have at last achieved the ultimate. You have the American dream home, stocked with all the gadgets science can devise to bring you comfort and joy.

And what happens? You reach the front door, glad to have made it through another day at the office and eager for a restful, relaxing evening at home.

"Hurry up and change your clothes. We're going out," the wife says.

"I kind of thought we might stay home tonight and take it easy," you protest.

"If you think I'm going to stay here night after night staring at the same four blank walls, you're crazy," she replies.

Four blank walls? This dream house that took so many years to make!

But out you must go. It makes no difference to a wife whether you're going out to visit a neighbor—or out to watch a free blood transfusion. She'll drag you to anything—just to get out of the house.

Why? This is the question no husband can answer.

Tips on Poison Ivy Rash

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

If you are over 60 years old you probably can go tramping through the woods this summer with little regard for poison ivy.

But chances are that most of you hikers will be considerably younger. And many of you will be among the approximately one million persons who will experience the painful effects of poison ivy, poison sumac and poison oak.

As a general rule, you become less sensitive to these poisonous plants as you grow older and relatively few persons over 60 remain susceptible.

But let's talk about those of you who are susceptible. Merely touching the surface of the leaves of these weeds will not necessarily give you a siege of poison ivy, etc. You must come into direct contact with the oily sap released by a bruised or crushed portion of the ivy. The canals which carry this sap do not reach the leaf's surface.

However, the poison is found in the plants' roots, stems, pollen and flowers. That makes it pretty difficult to avoid.

Moreover, the poison can be carried by dogs and other animals that have come in contact with it.

It can adhere to clothes, shoes, picnic outfits, etc., for many months, causing mysterious cases of poison at any time you might come in contact with these, even during the winter.

Most of you are familiar with the symptoms, itching and redness which develop within a few hours or a few days, and the swelling which follows a couple of days later.

Now what can you do to prevent or ease a case of poison ivy?

Washing the skin with water and ordinary laundry or kitchen soap a few minutes after contact with the villainous plant may help. Applying dressings of wet boric acid solution or cold saline compresses may be beneficial. Even soaking the affected area in hot water for ten-minute periods may help.

There are many anti-itching compounds that will help relieve the discomfort. Those containing a zinc oxide preparation may actually help prevent poison ivy if applied before exposure.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don't buy the idea the Supreme Court is backing down under criticism. The facts don't bear it out.

The attacks on the court in the 1958-59 term were bitter although less widespread than in the past. But this was a fairly mild term.

There's a good explanation for that. The nine justices didn't have to cope with issues as explosive as some of those in recent years.

The court continued to plod along steadily in its role as guardian of individual rights and freedoms. Its most publicized decisions were in that field.

As usual, they didn't please everyone, not even some of the justices themselves. The harshness of some of their criticism of one another's opinions might indicate some conflict within the court itself. That's only a guess.

Justice Black, always voting on what is called the liberal side, complained in a moment of exasperation that the court is in retreat. Any impartial study of the court's work would have a hard time proving it. One example: In decision after decision the court never budged an inch from its 1954 ruling outlawing racial segregation in public schools.

Ever since that 1954 opinion — and subsequent ones protecting fair-treatment rights of Communists and non-Communists — the court has been battered with denunciations.

Those opinions cut across many fields: states rights, the federal employe security program, the sedition laws of the states, and congressional investigations of communism.

As a result the justices have been told they were going too far, that they were usurping power that belonged to the legislative and executive branches of government, and that they were a menace. Some Southern Democrats talked of impeaching them.

This year even the American Bar Assn. at its February convention was split between those who wanted to chastise the court in an ABA resolution and those who didn't. In the end the ABA avoided direct criticism.

In one grand congressional outburst this summer House Republicans, defying the wishes of the Eisenhower administration, joined Southern Democrats in ramming through a bill to offset at least one court decision.

The court had ruled in 1956 that when it comes to trying subversives, federal law supersedes state sedition laws. The House-passed bill would give state laws equal weight with federal laws in the same field unless Congress specifically says otherwise or unless there are direct conflicts between them.

Opponents charged — and the supporters of the bill denied — that its real target was not sedition laws at all but civil rights and labor laws. Its chance of becoming law is slim.

coming law looks thin, for the Senate is unlikely to approve it.

The court irritated Congress no end in 1957 with a decision throwing out the contempt conviction of a man who refused to answer certain questions of the House Committee on Un-American Activities investigating communism in labor.

The court ruled that if a congressional committee wants to force a witness to answer it must show that its questions are pertinent to the investigation being made. In this case, the court said, the committee didn't.

This opinion forced the committee to be lots more precise in asking questions.

This year the court upheld the contempt conviction of another man who refused to answer the same committee's questions. In this case, the court said, the questions asked were shown to be pertinent.

This is the case where Black said the court was in retreat. But, whereas in the first case the witness asked to be shown how the questions were pertinent, the second didn't, and the committee explained its purposes beforehand.

In still another case which brought criticism the court in 1957 threw out the conviction of a man for falsely swearing he was not a Communist.

The court said the trial judge refused to let him see statements made to the FBI by witnesses testifying against him. The court said a witness has a right to see such statements to try, if he can, to discredit the witness.

This brought cries that the court was stripping government files of all secrecy in the future. The court actually did no such thing but, to avoid future confusion, Congress passed a law which said a defendant in a federal trial has a right — this upheld the court — to see written or recorded statements made to the government by witnesses against him, but only statements bearing on their testimony.

This year the Supreme Court, faced with a test case of this law, upheld it. It turned into law what the court had ruled, with a clarification. This was hardly a retreat from the 1957 opinion.

Mike Clamps Trip Expense

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State officials and employees must have authorization to claim expenses for trips between their homes and offices, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said today.

He issued a directive that such trips must be approved official business to warrant expense claims.

The directive followed examination of expense statements submitted by Andrew C. Putka, state superintendent of insurance. Putka submitted claims for about $300 in expenses for trips between his Cleveland home and his Columbus headquarters between February and June.

"Your travel log has been carefully examined," DiSalle said in a letter to Putka.

"I am convinced that each of your trips involved official business."

Occasionally someone takes a doleful view of the instrument of expanded consumer buying—credit—which has made great strides since World War II. It is significant that the uneasy view is not that of the Federal Reserve System, the Treasury Department or leading economists.

They recognize credit, though subject to regulation, is basic in our economic system. Credit began centuries ago when men first began to give letters of credit to customers. That grew into the banking system, which is based on credit. Without it, modern business could not function.

Without the expanding credit system, applicable now from factory raw materials through wholesaler and retailer on down to the consumer himself, the gross national product and distribution of goods and services would be at much lower level.

Hubby Can't Answer Question

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—There is one question about wives no husband can answer.

The question is, "Why do they want to go out in the evening?"

Why? No husband ever knows.

When you first marry a girl, all she says she wants in life is "to make a home." Make a home? What she means is she wants you to make a home for her.

So you rent a nice furnished room-and-a-half flat on the third floor of a walk-up apartment, and figure you've got life solved.

What happens? Inside a year she says it is too small.

"We need a home of our own to be really happy," she says. "Just a little cottage out in the country."

So you pawn your soul to the banker, and buy her a little cottage in the suburbs. In another year she's restless again.

"All I want is to make you a nice home," she says. "But what is home without a child?"

So you give her a child. You give her two children. You give her three children. Anything to keep her quiet.

So what happens? One day she announces:

"I feel like the old lady in the shoe in this little box of a house. We're too crowded. Why don't we get a bigger house farther out in the country where I can have a garden. That's all in this world I want."

So you take your soul again to the banker and buy her a house twice as big and four times as expensive. You buy her enough flower and vegetable seeds to feed China.

You buy her a rake and a hoe and a power mower. You rent her a landscape man "to give the house a proper setting."

"Now we'll have to fix up the inside of the house—if we're really going to have a dream home," she says.

Back you go to the banker. So you buy your wife the latest modern furniture, plus wall-to-wall carpeting and ceiling-to-floor draperies. You build a fine entertainment room in the basement, complete with games table and well-stocked bar. It has a television set. So has the living room.

You have a total of five radios throughout the house, so your wife can hear music wherever she goes. You buy her a sewing machine, an automatic dishwasher, an electric washer, dryer and ironer, a vacuum cleaner, an electric hair dryer, an electric massage machine, a home freezer that will hold a three-month supply of food.

You think you have thought of everything, but you haven't.

"It would be ideal here, if it didn't get so hot in summer," murmurs your wife. So you go to the banker—by now he is calling you buy your first name—and borrow enough to air-condition the house.

So you enlarge the garage and buy a second car.

You have at last achieved the ultimate. You have the American dream home, stocked with all the gadgets science can devise to bring you comfort and joy.

And what happens? You reach the front door, glad to have made it through another day at the office and eager for a restful, relaxing evening at home.

"Hurry up and change your clothes. We're going out," the wife says.

"I kind of thought we might stay home tonight and take it easy," you protest.

"If you think I'm going to stay here night after night staring at the same four blank walls, you're crazy," she replies.

Four blank walls? This dream house that took so many years to make!

But out you must go. It makes no difference to a wife whether you're going out to visit a neighbor—or out to watch a free blood transfusion. She'll drag you to anything—just to get out of the house.

Why? This is the question no husband can answer.

Private Capital & Slum Clearance

By George Sokolsky

There is quite a lot to do about Title 1 in New York City. This is a provision in the Federal Housing Law which was designed to encourage building in a period of deep depression. Ordinarily after a term of non-building due to a depression or war or some such condition, a boom in building and in real estate occurs.

In our large cities such a boom was delayed, principally because the Federal Government intervened with a building program of its own. This program involved a tax abatement and, in some circumstances, guaranteed credits with which private enterprise could not compete.

Title 1, however, was designed not to keep private enterprise out of the building business but to snare it into it. The Taft-Wagner-Elender Law was designed to bring private capital into the slum clearance business. The inducements were a write-down of land costs, the Federal Government and the municipalities joining in the cost. The power of eminent domain was extended so that large plots could be assembled. States granted tax abatements.

A slum is a blighted area of a city, deserted by careful dwellers and currently occupied by the lowest income groups or by those without income who live on charity, even if it is called relief. As most of the houses were originally erected for higher income groups and in many instances for one family, their conversion into multiple dwellings involves alterations which reduce the property to small unit flats. Such buildings may only be owned profitably if they are not maintained decently. Some landlords find even that unprofitable and board the places up, whereupon they become pestholes, overrun by rats and a menace to an entire neighborhood.

In New York City, Robert Moses, as chairman of the Slum Clearance Committee, had designed a formula for using public and private money, tax abatement, the right of eminent domain and a scheme for park-like development to produce a series of housing arrangements for low, middle and higher income groups, which have had the effect of replacing blighted areas with modern buildings. He has combined such housing with necessary public buildings such as the Coliseum and the Lincoln Square project. He has combined utility with beauty.

In some areas such projects can be developed for full tax paying and full rental buildings. This, of course, offends the do-gooders who thereupon decide for themselves that there must be tremendous windfalls, graft, etc., in this enterprise. Nobody dares to accuse Robert Moses of corruption. He has done too much for New York City and the country even for a tyro to denounce him. At 70, he does more work for the public weal than most men do for any reason. But there is ample opportunity to assail his associates most of whom are businessmen and bankers who have served volun-

Tips on Poison Ivy Rash

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

If you are over 60 years old you probably can go tramping through the woods this summer with little regard for poison ivy.

But chances are that most of you hikers will be considerably younger. And many of you will be among the approximately one million persons who will experience the painful effects of poison ivy, poison sumac and poison oak.

As a general rule, you become less sensitive to these poisonous plants as you grow older and relatively few persons over 60 remain susceptible.

But let's talk about those of you who are susceptible.

Merely touching the surface of the leaves of these weeds will not necessarily give you a siege of poison ivy, etc. You must come into direct contact with the oily sap released by a bruised or crushed portion of the ivy. The canals which carry this sap do not reach the leaf's surface.

However, the poison is found in the plants' roots, stems, pollen and flowers. That makes it pretty difficult to avoid.

Moreover, the poison can be carried by dogs and other animals that have come in contact with it.

It can adhere to clothes, shoes, picnic outfits, etc., for many months, causing mysterious cases of poison at any time you might come in contact with these, even during the winter.

Most of you are familiar with the symptoms, itching and redness which develop within a few hours or a few days, and the swelling which follows a couple of days later.

Now what can you do to prevent or ease a case of poison ivy?

Washing the skin with water and ordinary laundry or kitchen soap a few minutes after contact with the villainous plant may help. Applying dressings of wet boric acid solution or cold saline compresses may be beneficial. Even soaking the affected area in hot water for ten-minute periods may help.

There are many anti-itching compounds that will help relieve the discomfort. Those containing a zincum oxide preparation may actually help prevent poison ivy if applied before exposure.

Ex-Stutterer Checks Reasons For Common Speech Handicap

Editors: This is the 83rd in the Ohio Associated Press' series of enterprise stories this year.

By BILL FULDWIDER
Columbus Dispatch Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—At a cubbyhole workbench in Ohio State University's Derby Hall, surrounded by a conglomeration of homemade equipment, Dr. Courtney P. Stromsta searches for the cause of stuttering.

A stutterer himself, but no longer seriously handicapped by it, Dr. Stromsta thinks hearing defects may be partly to blame. To test this theories, he has assembled $20,000 worth of electronic equipment designed by himself and William Dawson, an OSU speech technician.

"Most interested persons now believe," Dr. Stromsta said, "that psychological effects cause stuttering. But many such cases don't seem to fit into the picture."

Of the experts he has talked with or read, not one has ever seen a cured stutterer, he said. "If it were psychological, it could be cured," he said.

Stuttering is a big problem. One out of about every 100 persons in the United States is affected in some degree, he said.

It has its psychological disadvantages, but "the majority afflicted suffer because they can't express themselves," Dr. Stromsta declared.

Taunts and jokes of others can be more of an advantage than a disadvantage because they impel a stutterer to overcome his handicap, he added. "Underneath, I'm sure it motivated me," he said.

Most persons are afflicted between the ages of 3 and 6. Dr. Stromsta began stuttering when he began to talk. Despite it, he has earned his master's and doctor's degrees at OSU.

"If you had come to interview me six years ago," he said, "I would have had to just walk away."

Young Soldier Discovers Who Wears the Pants

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—It's all a question of who wears the pants in the family.

Airman 2.C Francis W. Billado Jr. of the Vermont Air National Guard, unable to find his uniform pants, slipped into his father's trousers for an inspection recently.

He stood stiffly at attention as the inspecting officer—Maj. Gen. Francis W. Billado—toured the ranks.

Gen. Billado, Vermont's adjutant general, noticed something wrong when he came to Francis Jr. "Where did you get those pants?" he said. "They're yours, sir," replied the younger Billado.

The general's Army tans were a different shade than the Air Force shirt worn by his son.

Francis Jr. pulled extra duty for the incident, the guard reported today.

Solon Seeks To Abolish Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to abolish the present Supreme Court and reorganize it as a 17-man tribunal of state judges has been introduced by Rep. Overton Brooks D-La.

The proposal is in the form of a constitutional amendment. To go into effect, it would have to be approved by a two-thirds vote in the House and Senate and by three-fourths of the states.

The resolution would abolish the high court. Congress then would establish judicial districts of contiguous states.

AP Starts High-Speed Market Wire

NEW YORK (AP)—In a major advance in modern electronic communications techniques, The Associated Press today inaugurated high-speed automated delivery of complete stock market tables for afternoon newspapers.

The financial tables were delivered to a group of member newspapers over wires producing Teletypesetter tape, which in turn operates linecasting machines automatically. Complete tables were delivered successively in the course of the day's trading over high-speed wires at an equivalent of 265 words a minute, more than five times the speed of a normal Teletypesetter operation.

The new service marked another first for The Associated Press in Teletypesetter transmission. The AP was the first news service to deliver its regular news report over Teletypesetter wires and was the first to deliver the stock market tables for morning newspapers by this means. Until now, it had not been possible to meet by Teletypesetter delivery the requirement of afternoon newspapers to keep abreast of the latest stock market data during the trading day.

The new transmission enables member newspapers to improve service to their readers in coverage of the stock markets, in which public interest has increased steadily in recent years. Stock market trading in the first half of 1959 was the heaviest in 29 years.

The new AP circuits extend initially into New England, south to Miami and west as far as Omaha. In the course of a day's trading, they carry approximately 12,000 lines of copy.

The stock market trading is recorded, tabulated and transmitted by a staff of more than 50, and the high-speed transmission was made possible by electronic devices developed by The Associated Press research staff.

Soviet Exhibition Visitors Give Reds Quizzical Notes

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union has set up a direct pipeline to find out what effect the Soviet Exhibition has upon American viewers.

Visitors have been asked to give their impressions in several guest books scattered around the 10-million-dollar, six-acre cultural and scientific exhibit.

Perhaps the books will be taken back to Moscow for careful scrutiny by cold war strategists. If so, here's some of what they'll read: "Big brother is watching you."

"I saw this on July 4, 1959, a date commemorating of American independence—thank God for it."

"Russian music is for the birds—if they'll take it."

"Why don't you practice what you preach and the world situation might be a little better?"

"It's not the showcase that counts—it's the action and good will."

"Reading the insults and lack of understanding recorded in this book almost makes me ashamed to admit these are my countrymen."

"I'm sorry so many of my countrymen have taken this book as an opportunity to hurl insults and criticism. We are not all so crude and uninformed. Congratulations on your wonderful exhibit and the great progress your country has made."

"Twenty years ago we looked down at you. Today we fear and respect you. Good luck. More power to you."

"Forward to communism. Bill."

Diabetic Dies After Session With Healer

DETROIT (AP)—A woman diabetic, who said she threw away her insulin in the belief she had been cured by faith, died Sunday in a Detroit hospital.

The woman, Wanda Beach, 37, of Stanton, Mich., a diabetic since infancy, came here Friday to attend services of evangelist Oral Roberts. She called her parents Friday night and told them she was completely cured.

A motel manager, William McKee, said Mrs. Beach attended the evangelist's services Friday and Saturday night. Afterward, she told McKee and other motel residents she felt so good that she threw away her insulin.

Mrs. Beach became ill Sunday. A doctor reported she was in a diabetic coma.

A member of the evangelist's party, R. F. DeWeese said: "This is a tragic case. We constantly advise people never to do a thing like that. We advise them to go to their own doctors and get a medical examination and clear-ance before stopping medical treatment."

AP Starts High-Speed Market Wire

NEW YORK (AP)—In a major advance in modern electronic communications techniques, The Associated Press today inaugurated high-speed automated delivery of complete stock market tables for afternoon newspapers. The financial tables were delivered to a group of member newspapers over wires producing Teletypesetter tape, which in turn operates linecasting machines automatically. Complete tables were delivered successfully in the course of the day's trading over high-speed wires at an equivalent of 265 words a minute, more than five times the speed of a normal Teletypesetter operation.

The new service marked another first for The Associated Press in Teletypesetter transmission. The AP was the first news service to deliver its regular news report over Teletypesetter wires and was the first to deliver the stock market tables for morning newspapers by this means. Until now, it had not been possible to meet by Teletypesetter delivery the requirement of afternoon newspapers to keep abreast of the latest stock market data during the trading day.

The new transmission enables member newspapers to improve service to their readers in coverage of the stock markets, in which public interest has increased steadily in recent years. Stock market trading in the first half of 1959 was the heaviest in 29 years.

The new AP circuits extend initially into New England, south to Miami and west as far as Omaha. In the course of a day's trading, they carry approximately 12,000 lines of copy.

The stock market trading is recorded, tabulated and transmitted by a staff of more than 50, and the high-speed transmission was made possible by electronic devices developed by The Associated Press research staff.

Soviet Exhibition Visitors Give Reds Quizzical Notes

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union has set up a direct pipeline to find out what effect the Soviet Exhibition has upon American viewers.

Visitors have been asked to give their impressions in several guest books scattered around the 10-million-dollar, six-acre cultural and scientific exhibit.

Perhaps the books will be taken back to Moscow for careful scrutiny by cold war strategists. If so, here's some of what they'll read: "Big brother is watching you."

"I saw this on July 4, 1959, a date commemorative of American independence—thank God for it."

"Russian music is for the birds—if they'll take it."

"Why don't you practice what you preach and the world situation might be a little better?"

"It's not the showcase that counts—it's the action and good will."

"Reading the insults and lack of understanding recorded in this book almost makes me ashamed to admit these are my countrymen."

"I'm sorry so many of my countrymen have taken this book as an opportunity to hurl insults and criticism. We are not all so crude and uninformed. Congratulations on your wonderful exhibit and the great progress your country has made."

"Twenty years ago we looked down at you. Today we fear and respect you. Good luck. More power to you."

"Forward to communism, Bill."

Diabetic Dies After Session With Healer

DETROIT (AP)—A woman diabetic, who said she threw away her insulin in the belief she had been cured by faith, died Sunday in a Detroit hospital.

The woman, Wanda Beach, 37, of Stanton, Mich., a diabetic since infancy, came here Friday to attend services of evangelist Oral Roberts. She called her parents Friday night and told them she was completely cured.

A motel manager, William McKee, said Mrs. Beach attended the evangelist's services Friday and Saturday night. Afterward, she told McKee and other motel residents she felt so good that she threw away her insulin.

Mrs. Beach became ill Sunday. A doctor reported she was in a diabetic coma.

A member of the evangelist's party, R. F. DeWeese said: "This is a tragic case. We constantly advise people never to do a thing like that. We advise them to go to their own doctors and get a medical examination and clearance before stopping medical treatment."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman and ranking Republican member of the Senate Agriculture Committee say there's little chance for adoption of legislation at this session of Congress to aid the wheat industry, bogged down with a record surplus.

Ex-Stutter Checks Reasons For Common Speech Handicap

Editors: This is the 83rd in the Ohio Associated Press' series of enterprise stories this year.

By BILL FULDWIDER
Columbus Dispatch Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—At a cubbyhole workbench in Ohio State University's Derby Hall, surrounded by a conglomeration of homemade equipment, Dr. Courtney P. Stromsta searches for the cause of stuttering.

A stutterer himself, but no longer seriously handicapped by it, Dr. Stromsta thinks hearing defects may be partly to blame.

To test this theories, he has assembled $20,000 worth of electronic equipment designed by himself and William Dawson, an OSU speech technician.

"Most interested persons now believe," Dr. Stromsta said, "that psychological effects cause stuttering. But many such cases don't seem to fit into the picture."

Of the experts he has talked with or read, not one has ever seen a cured stutterer, he said. "If it were psychological, it could be cured," he said.

Stuttering is a big problem. One out of about every 100 persons in the United States is affected in some degree, he said.

It has its psychological disadvantages, but "the majority afflicted suffer because they can't express themselves," Dr. Stromsta declared.

Taunts and jokes of others can be more of an advantage than a disadvantage because they impel a stutterer to overcome his handicap, he added.

"Underneath, I'm sure it motivated me," he said.

Most persons are afflicted between the ages of 3 and 6. Dr. Stromsta began stuttering when he began to talk. Despite it, he has earned his master's and doctor's degrees at OSU.

"If you had come to interview me six years ago," he said, "I would have had to just walk away."

Young Soldier Discovers Who Wears the Pants

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—It's all a question of who wears the pants in the family.

Airman 2.C Francis W. Billado Jr. of the Vermont Air National Guard, unable to find his uniform pants, slipped into his father's trousers for an inspection recently.

He stood stiffly at attention as the inspecting officer—Maj. Gen. Francis W. Billado—toured the ranks.

Gen. Billado, Vermont's adjutant general, noticed something wrong when he came to Francis Jr. "Where did you get those pants?" he said. "They're yours, sir," replied the younger Billado.

The general's Army tans were a different shade than the Air Force shirt worn by his son.

Francis Jr. pulled extra duty for the incident, the guard reported today.

Solon Seeks To Abolish Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to abolish the present Supreme Court and reorganize it as a 17-man tribunal of state judges has been introduced by Rep. Overton Brooks D-La.

The proposal is in the form of a constitutional amendment. To go into effect, it would have to be approved by a two-thirds vote in the House and Senate and by three-fourths of the states.

The resolution would abolish the high court. Congress then would establish judicial districts of contiguous states.

Homemaker Clubs Honor New County Home Agent

Miss Kileen Ewing, new Pickaway County Home Demonstration Agent, was honored recently by members of the 11 Homemaker Clubs of the county with a "get acquainted" tea.

The tea was held in the recreation rooms of St. Joseph's Church, and attended by more than fifty club members and guests. Mrs. Judson Boughner, president of the Pickaway County Homemaker's Council, welcomed the honored guest and club members.

Following a short response by Miss Ewing, a musical program was presented. The group sang the club song, "Onward Ever Onward," followed by a vocal solo by Miss Sandra Grissom.

Miss Carolyn Hubbell presented a flute solo and humorous skit was given by Mrs. Madge Balsam and Mrs. Grace Newton, both members of the Duvall Homemaker Club. The program closed with a second vocal selection by Miss Grissom.

The tea table was decorated in a color scheme of green and white, with an arrangement of garden flowers on a lace cloth as the centerpiece, flanked by lighted tapers. Mrs. Joe Vause, vice president of the county council, served at the crystal punch bowl. Representatives of the various clubs in attendance provided the interesting refreshments of varieties of cheese and crackers.

During the social hour, the club members took the opportunity to become personally acquainted with Miss Ewing, who comes to Pick-away County from Ohio State University where she graduated in June of this year. Miss Ewing, a native of Wayne County, will work with the Homemaker clubs of the county as well as assisting with all 4-H projects.

At the close of the event, Mrs. Boughner held a short business session of the county council. Following a report of the secretary, Mrs. Winfred Bidwell, Mrs. Esouger urged all club members to make plans to attend the 1959 Women's Camp.

Reservations for the event are to be sent to the Pickaway County Extension Office by July 17. Tar Hollow is the setting for the camp and registration begins at 3 p. m. July 26, followed by supper, evening vespers, and a campfire program.

Pickaway County is to be responsible for the campfire program on July 27 and local club members are urged to take their ideas and materials for this program to camp with them.

A program of crafts, swimming, campfires and many other activities has been planned. The camp will close following breakfast on July 28.

Initial plans for a booth at the Pickaway County Fair in August were made during the session. Each club is asked to contribute three items made during the club programs for exhibit in the booth. Workers are also requested from the clubs to help set up the exhibit, which will be in the coliseum.

The Circleville Garden Club met at 6 p. m. June 25 in the home of Mr. Floyd Bartley for the annual picnic and business meeting, with 15 members and their guests present for the last regular meeting until September.

Officers elected for the coming year were Miss Jean Overly, president; Mrs. Blanche Woltz, vice-president; Mr. James Swagler, secretary; Mrs. Channing Vlerbome, treasurer; Mrs. C. O. Schweizer, corresponding secretary and Mrs. C. C. McClure, historian.

Lake County To Sell Its Water System

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—If satisfactory terms can be arranged, Lake County will sell its water plant in Madison Township to the Ohio Water Service Co. County commissioners agreed to this Monday. The plant, built in 1955 at a cost of $755,000, distributes Lake Erie water along the township's lakefront.

Discontent On Highway Patrol Probed

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Discontent among some Ohio Highway Patrolmen over recent transfer has led to a double-barreled investigation.

A Toledo law firm, engaged by two patrolmen, and State Highway Safety Director Grant Keys both said they will look into the situation.

Frazier Reams Sr., a former congressman, said the law firm in which he is a partner has been hired by Cpl. Zene Smith and Patrolman Robert W. Newell, recently shifted from the post at Walbridge, just south of Toledo, to new assignments. Smith, who headed the Walbridge post and has been put in charge of the Defiance post, and Newell, sent to the Bellefontaine post, want to know the circumstances behind the move.

Another patrolman, J. S. Whittier, transferred from Walbridge to the Ohio Turnpike patrol post at Swanton, said he will resign.

Keys, in Columbus, said transfers throughout the state were made necessary by graduation of 34 patrolmen from the Highway Patrol Academy June 26.

"I assume that these transfers are part of the statewide requirements," Keys said. "However, in view of the extreme local interest that has been indicated regarding certain transfers, I am making a complete investigation."

Freeze Now For Future Use

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES, lined up on serving cart are stored in 16-cubic-foot freezer. Frost-free design provides extra storage space for foods, and never needs any defrosting.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Take advantage of the summer harvest of fruits and vegetables by freezing now for future use.

It's a worthwhile idea for both gardeners and shoppers alike. The former can utilize an abundant crop; the shopper can take advantage of the low prices of produce in season.

In freezing foods, the director of home economics for a well-known appliance company suggests you keep these basic rules in mind:

1. Use high quality fruits and vegetables. Freezing does not improve the original quality, it retains it!
2. Take foods from harvest to freezer as quickly as possible.
3. Prepare foods for freezing in small quantities. If you try to prepare overly large amounts, you are apt to impair quality, flavor and appearance.
4. Make sure foods are properly wrapped, packaged and sealed in suitable containers. Use packaging that affords a moisture-vaporproof seal.
5. Label cartons and packages clearly, listing contents and date placed in frozen storage.
6. Do not keep foods ready for freezing at room temperature longer than necessary.
7. Store foods in a freezer that maintains zero-zone temperature.

Fruit and berries are among the summer crops you may wish to put up now.

Some fruits, such as peaches, have a tendency to darken, which rather spoils their appearance. You can avoid this by adding ascorbic acid to the sirup before combining it with the fruit. This also prevents fruit from turning brownish during the thawing process.

Fruits and berries can be frozen three ways: without sugar, with sugar sirup or with dry sugar. Some fruits, such as peaches, have a tendency to darken, which rather spoils their appearance. You can avoid this by adding ascorbic acid to the sirup before combining it with the fruit. This also prevents fruit from turning brownish during the thawing process.

To freeze fruits with dry sugar, work with small amounts at a time.

Dissolve 1/2 tsp. ascorbic acid in 4 tbsp. cold water. Add 2 tsp. of this mixture to 1 pt. peeled fruit. Turn over and over until fruit is treated, then add sugar at the rate of about 1/4 c. for each pt. of fruit.

Vegetables such as lima beans and peas must be blanched (scalded) before freezing to preserve flavor, texture and color.

You can blanch with boiling water or steam. Time will vary, depending on the type and size of the vegetable. Small lima beans take 2 min., while larger ones take 4 min.

After blanching, cool vegetable

Discontent On Highway Patrol Probed

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Discontent among some Ohio Highway Patrolmen over recent transfer has led to a double-barreled investigation.

A Toledo law firm, engaged by two patrolmen, and State Highway Safety Director Grant Keys both said they will look into the situation.

Frazier Reams Sr., a former congressman, said the law firm in which he is a partner has been hired by Cpl. Zene Smith and Patrolman Robert W. Newell, recently shifted from the post at Walbridge, just south of Toledo, to new assignments. Smith, who headed the Walbridge post and has been put in charge of the Defiance post, and Newell, sent to the Bellefontaine post, want to know the circumstances behind the move.

Another patrolman, J. S. Whittier, transferred from Walbridge to the Ohio Turnpike patrol post at Swanton, said he will resign.

Keys, in Columbus, said transfers throughout the state were made necessary by graduation of 34 patrolmen from the Highway Patrol Academy June 26.

"I assume that these transfers are part of the statewide requirements," Keys said. "However, in view of the extreme local interest that has been indicated regarding certain transfers, I am making a complete investigation."

Freeze Now For Future Use

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES, lined up on serving cart are stored in 16-cubic-foot freezer. Frost-free design provides extra storage space for foods, and never needs any defrosting.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Take advantage of the summer harvest of fruits and vegetables by freezing now for future use.

It's a worthwhile idea for both gardeners and shoppers alike. The former can utilize an abundant crop; the shopper can take advantage of the low prices of produce in season.

In freezing foods, the director of home economics for a well-known appliance company suggests you keep these basic rules in mind:

1. Use high quality fruits and vegetables. Freezing does not improve the original quality, it retains it!

2. Take foods from harvest to freezer as quickly as possible.

3. Prepare foods for freezing in small quantities. If you try to prepare overly large amounts, you are apt to impair quality, flavor and appearance.

4. Make sure foods are properly wrapped, packaged and sealed in suitable containers. Use packaging that affords a moisture-vaporproof seal.

5. Label cartons and packages clearly, listing contents and date placed in frozen storage.

6. Do not keep foods ready for freezing at room temperature longer than necessary.

7. Store foods in a freezer that maintains zero-zone temperature.

Fruit and berries are among the summer crops you may wish to put up now.

Some fruits, such as peaches, have a tendency to darken, which rather spoils their appearance. You can avoid this by adding ascorbic acid to the sirup before combining it with the fruit. This also prevents fruit from turning brownish during the thawing process.

Fruits and berries can be frozen three ways: without sugar, with sugar sirup or with dry sugar.

(Note: To prevent browning, add 1/2 tsp. of powdered ascorbic acid to each 5 c. chilled sirup.)

To freeze fruits with dry sugar, work with small amounts at a time.

Dissolve 1/2 tsp. ascorbic acid in 4 tbs. cold water. Add 2 tsp. of this mixture to 1 pt. peeled fruit. Turn over and over until fruit is treated, then add sugar at the rate of about 1/4 c. for each pt. of fruit.

Vegetables such as lima beans and peas must be blanched (scalded) before freezing to preserve flavor; texture and color.

You can blanch with boiling water or steam. Time will vary, depending on the type and size of the vegetable. Small lima beans take 2 min., while larger ones take 4 min.

After blanching, cool vegetable

in ice water quickly, then remove and drain.

In packaging vegetables, remember that a pt. container holds about 3 to 4 servings.

If you're in the market for a freezer, look for new models that are frost-free. They eliminate the messy defrosting job and keep packages from becoming ice-locked. What's more, they keep labels readable, for they never frost over.

Best of all, these frost-free models offer maximum use of space. Surprisingly, frost can waste a whole cubic foot of space—enough to store 75 commercial food packages. Free of frost, this space can be used, as intended, for food.

Ailing Mantle, Kaline May Cut AL Stars' Power

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The sub-par physical condition of Mickey Mantle and Al Kaline, two of the American League's more distinguished distance hitters, appeared to give the National League a decided edge in today's 28th annual All-Star game before a capacity Forbes Field crowd of 35,000 including Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Although scheduled to open in center field, sat out Sunday's game between New York and Washington because of a twisted ankle. He winces every time he puts pressure on the right foot. Manager Casey Stengel insisted his switch-hitting Yankee star was ready to play but it would not be surprising if Mickey were used only in a pinch hitting role.

"That guy never lets you know when he's hurting and he always is ready to play," said Stengel. "I kept him out last Sunday for his own good and also because if he couldn't play in the All-Star game, I didn't want people to say if he was ready to play Sunday then why not now?"

There were no known casualties on the power-laden National League squad that had such home run swatters as Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron, Willie Mays, Ernie Banks and Orlando Cepeda batting second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth. This quintet owns a total of 101 home runs.

There is nothing puny about the American League batting order which begins with Minnie Minoso, a 13-homer man and has Harmon Killebrew, the league's leading home run and runs batted in man (28-70) batting seventh.

In between, the National League pitchers had to face Nellie Fox, Kaline, Bill Skowron, Rocky Colavito and Gus Triandos. Chicago's fleet-footed shortstop, Luis Aparicio, was the eighth hitter in the lineup. Johnny Temple, Cincinnati's fine second baseman, was the NL's leadoff hitter. Wally Moon, Del Crandall and Don Drysdale, selected by Manager Fred Haney as his starting pitcher, represented the lower third of the order.

Haney, who lost last year to Stengel, in his only other managerial venture in All-Star competition, gave his reason for picking the Los Angeles Dodger right-hander over his own Lew Burdette.

"I had decided on a right-hander because they have only one lefty in their lineup (Fox)," said Haney. "It came between Drysdale and Burdette but I figured if I picked my man they'd say I was prejudiced."

Actually Drysdale, with his cross-fire delivery which has helped him strike out the major league high of 133 batters so far, figured to be the NL's best bet against the right-handed power hitters.

Stengel's choice of Early Wynn, 39-year-old Chicago right-hander, confirmed the suspicion that he had weakened on his original choice of Hoyt Wilhelm, Baltimore's spectacular knuckleball expert. Hoyt, after winning his first nine games lost his next four. He pitched six innings Sunday and did not look too good.

Under All-Star rules, no pitcher may go more than three innings unless the game runs into extra innings. Starting players must see action at least three innings.

Burdette was Haney's choice to pitch the middle three innings with Elroy Face, Pittsburgh's incredible relief pitcher, in readiness at a moment's call.

Stengel did not name his second pitcher but assured all that Ryne Duren, the Yankees' flame-throwing right-hander, would be in there toward the end.

THE FINAL GAME OF THE week pitted the Reds against the Cards with the Reds coming out on top, 7-2. Skip Carper captured the win and Streitenberger was charged with the loss.

Carper allowed but two hits while Streitenberger gave up seven. Danny Davis opened the first inning with a bases loaded triple to ice the game for the Reds.

Carper's two-run double in the fourth inning mounted the score. Hitting stars were Redleg hitters, Dick DeLong and Carper, 2 for 2, and triple by Kelly, Davis and Rayburn.

Davis' fine stop of a hot smash in the final inning preserved Carper's league advancing win. The Kingston Little League is under the supervision of high school coach, Gary Walsh.

Daryl Bass absorbed the loss, his first, and was relieved by Jim Diltz and Forrest Lowe during the game. Coca Cola hitting star was Arnie Gabriel with a 3 for 4 night.

Only extra base hits of the game were Chet Iery's double and a two-bagger by Herald's Wood. By virtue of its fourth win against three losses, Coke takes a firm hold on the second place in the majors.

The Herald remains in first position with a strong 5-1 record. The Herald committed three errors to Coke's none.

Today's action pits Lincoln Plastic (2-2) against Circleville Oil (2-2) in a battle for the minor's fourth place. The game will be played on the little diamond at 5:30 p. m.

In other minor league play, First National (1-3) meets Third National (0-3) at 5:30 p. m. on the softball diamond. A first National win could move it into sixth place or a loss will shove it into the cellar.

The first major league action of the season under lights will take place at 7:45 p. m. today on the softball diamond.

The Elks (1-4) will face Ralston Purina (2-4). An Elks win will move them into third place and a loss will further bury them in the cellar.

Reds Grab Kingston LL Top Position

The Reds assumed command of the Kingston Little League last week, unseating the Braves with a 5-2 record for a half game lead.

The Braves held a strong second place with a 4-2 slate. A full game behind in third place were the Cards with a 4-3 record and the winless Giants brought up the rear with a 0-6 record.

The first game of last week's action found the Cards defeating the Giants, 11-7. Walks were the story of the hapless Cards' downfall.

The Cards tallied all 11 runs on only two singles and 17 walks. The Giants were aided in their losing cause by Billy Wood's three run homer.

LOSING PITCHER Roger Hammond boomed a two-run triple and Butch Smith walloped a home run for the Giants. Joe Streitenberger was the winner, fanning 11.

The Reds recorded victory No. 4 with a 7-4 win over the Braves. Skip Carper was the winner and Bill Large absorbed the loss.

David Kelley's two-run homer and single paced the Reds to their win. He had three RBIs for the day. Winner Carper poked two doubles and Joe Rayburn pounded a triple for the victory.

Wood opened the game for the Braves with his second homer in two days. Losing hurler Large also hit a home run. The Braves led 3-0 going into the final two innings when the Reds' bats boomed their way to victory.

The Braves rebounded the following day with a convincing 7-0 win over the Giants. Poor hitting beat the Giants this time as poor pitching control lost them the first game of the week.

Smith and Hammond failed to find the mark in the first inning and issued nine walks and allowed a double by Wood for all seven runs. The Braves' John Ralston had a double and Hammond registered two hits for the Giants. Smith took the loss and Large got the win.

Under All-Star rules, no pitcher may go more than three innings unless the game runs into extra innings. Starting players must see action at least three innings.

Burdette was Haney's choice to pitch the middle three innings with Elroy Face, Pittsburgh's incredible relief pitcher, in readiness at a moment's call.

GE Nine Snaps Losing Streak With 10-3 Win over DuPont

General Electric, snapping a two-game losing streak, posted a convincing 10-3 decision over DuPont in Babe Ruth League play last night at Ted Lewis Park.

Harold Hartley tossed a slick two-hitter to lead GE to a revenge win over the DuPonters who had pinned an upset loss on the league leaders last week.

GE again flexed its muscles at the plate to crack six hits and take advantage of all scoring opportunities. Hartley aided his own cause with a run - producing triple and Ted Gulick remained one of the top batters in the loop with a double.

Donnie Phifer and George Reeser hurried for DuPont, with Phifer taking the loss.

HARTLEY took command early and remained strong throughout as he fanned five and walked four. The only hits he allowed were singles to Kline and Ford.

Phifer whiffed two and walked six and Reeser came on in a commendable relief job to fan four and walk none and give up only one run.

The win pushed GE's leading record to five wins and two losses. Three of the wins have been by Hartley who remains undefeated.

GE opened last night's skirmish with four runs in the first frame and five in the second. Reeser came on to blank the winners in the next three frames before they were able to score a single marker in the last stanza.

DuPont tallied single runs in the second, fourth and sixth innings. Phifer scored all three markers without the benefit of a hit.

Next Babe Ruth action comes Thursday when Kiwanis meets DuPont at 7:45 p. m. on the softball diamond.

Next competition at the park comes Wednesday night when River Oil of Chillicothe participates in a doubleheader. The Oilmen meet Veterans of Foreign Wars in the first tilt, then take on Stonerock's TV in a game which was rained out in the second round.

Ailing Mantle, Kaline May Cut AL Stars' Power

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The sub-par physical condition of Mickey Mantle and Al Kaline, two of the American League's more distinguished distance hitters, appeared to give the National League a decided edge in today's 26th annual All-Star game before a capacity Forbes Field crowd of 35,000 including Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Although scheduled to open in center the brilliant young Tiger star, recovering from a facial operation, had the stitches removed only Monday in Detroit before flying into Pittsburgh. He hasn't played for a week.

Mantle, Kaline's alternate in center field, sat out Sunday's game between New York and Washington because of a twisted ankle. He winces every time he puts pressure on the right foot. Manager Casey Stengel insisted his switch-hitting Yankee star was ready to play but it would not be surprising if Mickey were used only in a pinch hitting role.

"That guy never lets you know when he's hurting and he always is ready to play," said Stengel. "I kept him out last Sunday for his own good and also because if he couldn't play in the All-Star game, I didn't want people to say if he was ready to play Sunday then why not now?"

There were no known casualties on the power-laden National League squad that had such home

Coca Cola Jets Hand Herald First Defeat

After last night's shattering 16-1 Coca Cola victory over The Herald, the Kid Baseball program does not have an undefeated team.

The Herald was the last of the unbeaten with a five game win streak. Coca Cola demolished it in the first and second innings with a 10-run outburst that was more than enough for the win.

Chester Iery shakkled the Herald bats with four hits, three by Jim Wood. Meanwhile, Iery's teammates were blasting three Herald pitchers for 14 hits.

Iery went on to post his third win of the season without a defeat. He walked six and struck out seven. The three Herald hurlers issued 13 free passes and fanned two.

DARYL BASS absorbed the loss, his first, and was relieved by Jim Diltz and Forrest Lowe during the game. Coca Cola hitting star was Arnie Gabriel with a 3 for 4 night.

Only extra base hits of the game were Chet Iery's double and a two-bagger by Herald's Wood. By virtue of its fourth win against three losses, Coke takes a firm hold on the second place in the majors.

The Herald remains in first position with a strong 5-1 record. The Herald committed three errors to Coke's none.

Today's action pits Lincoln Plastic (2-2) against Circleville Oil (2-2) in a battle for the minor's fourth place. The game will be played on the little diamond at 5:30 p. m.

In other minor league play, First National (1-3) meets Third National (0-3) at 5:30 p. m. on the softball diamond. A first National win could move it into sixth place or a loss will shove it into the cellar.

The first major league action of the season under lights will take place at 7:45 p. m. today on the softball diamond.

The Elks (1-4) will face Ralston Purina (2-4). An Elks win will move them into third place and a loss will further bury them in the cellar.

Reds Grab Kingston LL Top Position

The Reds assumed command of the Kingston Little League last week, unseating the Braves with a 5-2 record for a half game lead.

The Braves held a strong second place with a 4-2 slate. A full game behind in third place were the Cards with a 4-3 record and the winless Giants brought up the rear with a 0-6 record.

The first game of last week's action found the Cards defeating the Giants, 11-7. Walks were the story of the hapless Cards' downfall.

The Cards tallied all 11 runs on only two singles and 17 walks. The Giants were aided in their losing cause by Billy Wood's three run homer.

LOSING PITCHER Roger Hammond boomed a two-run triple and Butch Smith walloped a home run for the Giants. Joe Streitenberger was the winner, fanning 11.

The Reds recorded victory No. 4 with a 7-4 win over the Braves. Skip Carper was the winner and Bill Large absorbed the loss.

David Kelley's two-run homer and single paced the Reds to their win. He had three RBI's for the day. Winner Carper poked two doubles and Joe Rayburn pounded a triple for the victors.

Wood opened the game for the Braves with his second homer in two days. Losing hurler Large also hit a home run. The Braves led 3-0 going into the final two innings when the Reds' bats boomed their way to victory.

The Braves rebounded the following day with a convincing 7-0 win over the Giants. Poor hitting beat the Giants this time as poor pitching control lost them the first game of the week.

Smith and Hammond fisted to find the mark in the first inning and issued nine walks and allowed a double by Wood for all seven runs. The Braves' John Ralston had a double and Hammond registered two hits for the Giants. Smith took the loss and Large got the win.

THE FINAL GAME of the week pitted the Reds against the Cards with the Reds coming out on top, 7-2. Skip Carper captured the win and Streitenberger was charged with the loss.

Carper allowed but two hits while Streitenberger gave up seven hits. Danny Davis opened the first inning with a bases loaded triple to ice the game for the Reds.

Carper's two-run double in the fourth inning mounted the score. Hitting stars were Redleg hitters, Dick DeLong and Carper, 2 for 2, and triple by Kelly, Davis and Rayburn.

Davis' fine stop of a hot smash in the final inning preserved Carper's league advancing win. The Kingston Little League is under the supervision of high school coach, Gary Walsh.

GE Nine Snaps Losing Streak With 10-3 Win over DuPont

General Electric, snapping a two-game losing streak, posted a convincing 10-3 decision over DuPont in Babe Ruth League play last night at Ted Lewis Park.

Harold Hartley tossed a slick two-hitter to lead GE to a revenge win over the DuPonters who had pinned an upset loss on the league leaders last week.

GE again flexed its muscles at the plate to crack six hits and take advantage of all scoring opportunities. Hartley aided his own cause with a run - producing triple and Ted Gulick remained one of the top batters in the loop with a double.

Donnie Phifer and George Reeser hurried for DuPont, with Phifer taking the loss.

HARTLEY took command early and remained strong throughout as he fanned five and walked four. The only hits he allowed were singles to Kline and Ford.

Phifer whiffed two and walked six and Reeser came on in a com-

Mexican Set To Joust Champ

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Youthful Jose Becerra of Mexico today was given a puncher's chance to lift the world bantamweight crown from the close-cropped head of Alphonse Halimi of France Wednesday night.

The betting remained about 2-1 for the 27-year-old Frenchman, who risks the title for the second time in a nationally televised 15-rounder in Memorial Sports Arena. It goes on at 10 p.m., EDT via the ABC network.

Becerra, only 23, has scored 11 straight knockouts and a total of 20 in his 35 professional fights.

His last one, against his strongest foe, ex-champion Mario D'Agata of Italy, earned him the crack at Halimi.

Mother of 2 Paces Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — A mother of two children today threw a challenge to the young in years in the Women's Western Amateur golf tournament.

Mrs. Ruth White Miller, 39, of Long Beach, Calif., stole the qualifying medal Monday from the teenagers with a par-matching 75.

It equaled the competitive course record on the 6,567-yard, par 37-38-75 Exmoor Country Club course.

Mrs. Miller left her daughters, Vicki, 7, and Debra, 5, with her parents in Cleveland.

A former assistant dean of students at Antioch College in Ohio, she once studied singing, played tennis, and took up golf seriously five years ago. She won the Southern California crown this year.

Publinx Players Expected To Shine in Ohio Amateur

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ohio's 53rd state amateur golf tournament opens here today with public links players expected to make one of their strongest bids for a title no publinx entrant ever has been able to win.

The 22 publinx players entered are only a small minority of the 204-man starting field but there is considerable quality if not much quantity.

Two of the public links entrants—Dave Daniels of Columbus and Jack Zimmerman of Dayton—each have won the state public links title twice. Daniels won last year. Another possible threat from among the group of 22 is Ed Koski, Steubenville steelworker and father of seven. He has won the national Polish championship three times.

Today's play over the Kenwood Country Club's par 71, 6,798-yard course, was the first of two 18-hole qualifying rounds. The second will be played Wednesday and the 63 low scorers, plus defending champion Dick Schwartz of Youngstown, will begin match play Thursday.

The 36-hole final match will be played Sunday.

Missing from the starting field were Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, a member of this year's Walker Cup team; Don Stickney of Columbus, who upset Nicklaus last year; Bob Benning of Dayton, runner-up to Schwartz last year, and Robert McManus of Cincinnati, a semi-finalist in the 1958 national amateur tourney.

Other tournaments or business commitments kept them out of action.

But the field is filled with other of Ohio's top flight play-for-fun golfers.

Former champions John Florio of Columbus, Bob Rankin of Zanesville and Ed Preisler of Cleveland were with Schwartz in the group of players who have won the state amateur at least once.

Bob Shave Jr. of Cleveland, Bob Roll of Greenville and Don Albert of Columbus were among others who have won championships of one kind or another and who started play.

Like all courses in Cincinnati, the Kenwood layout is of hilly terrain but its position upon the hills beyond the Ohio River doesn't make it quite as rough on the legs as some of the others in the Queen City.

Monday Daniels sank a two-foot putt on the first extra hole to give him and Jack Chabot of Columbus a victory in the first amateur-amateur best ball tourney to be sponsored by the Ohio Golf Assn.

The event attracted 84 twosomes and was held as a preliminary to the main event.

The Daniels-Chabot duo tied with three other teams at the finish of the regulation 18 holes with a best ball score of 67.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Short Circuit a Live Wire

DEAR ABBY: Ten years ago I sold my home and moved out of the neighborhood to escape a gold-digger who was after my husband.

She divorced her husband to be ready when mine divorced me. When he realized that all the money and property was in my name, he changed his mind and decided to stick with me.

Now in his SEVENTIES he has started up this romance again.

After putting up with him for 49 years I do not intend to disgrace my children and grandchildren by going through a divorce. How can I keep him in line?

DEAR NO: Oftentimes the lack of cash in a man's pocket will keep him in line when his moral principles have failed to do so. One way to ground a live wire is to short circuit his all-ience.

DEAR ABBY: I was disappointed in your advice to that woman who was arguing with her husband about what kind of funeral to give him.

The wife said she wanted to "put him away in style." Maybe you didn't see pictures of Dulles' funeral? If that wasn't "style" I'd like to know what was? Some people are never satisfied.

DEAR ABBY: Someone should set you straight about government burial. The government doesn't "bury" anybody. They give you a certain amount toward the funeral. I lost my son (in Korea) ten years ago and at that time they gave me $150 towards the funeral expenses. They have since raised it to $250.

How far do you think $250 will go?

ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ABBY: I need your help. My Dad said to me, "Call the Smiths and tell them no more babysitting for you because I don't intend to have you mother sitting up until 3:30 waiting for you." Abby, I am 14 years old, and can take a key and my mother doesn't have to sit up and wait until I get home. The people I sit for all ways see that I get in the house okay. The pay is good, and I like the people and I don't see why my father has to be so unreasonable. Don't ask me to talk to mother, as my Dad runs this house.

SAD SITTER
DEAR SAD: If you were to take a key, I doubt if your mother would close her eyes before you returned home anyway. Fourteen-year-olds should not be "sitting" until 3:30 a.m. Your Dad has my vote.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to a boy in the service who I have never seen. Just snapshots. He is a buddy of my brother's. He has been putting "S.W.A.B.K." and also "L.O.L." on the back of his letters. Don't you think he is getting too serious?

LENA
DEAR LENA: "S.W.A.B.K." is not exactly grounds for breach of promise, but what does "L.O.L." mean?

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

EVER HAPPEN TO YOU?

Merged Church Debates Theology

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Whether Christ has conquered sin, or still is in the process of doing it, became an issue today at the general synod of the United Church of Christ.

It arose, along with other fine points in theology and semantics, as the new denomination sought to evolve a mutual statement of faith.

The job of ironing out the creed continued into the late hours Monday night, and it was not expected to be ready for a vote until Wednesday.

About 750 delegates, representing the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches, also began considering a constitution for their united denomination.

But it was the presentation by a 30-member commission of a proposed expression of belief late Monday that touched off the most sensitive wave of reaction.

The Rev. Michael A. Vallon, Danville, Calif., questioned a phrase saying that God in Christ has "conquered sin and death, and reconciled the world to Himself."

"I don't understand how you can say He has conquered sin and death when you see it all around us," the Californian said, and proceeded to elaborate on the distress and injustice still existing in the world.

He said a Biblical wording of the matter said that Christ "was reconciling" the world to Himself, but that didn't mean the task already was complete.

The Rev. Mr. Robert Adams of Buffalo, N. Y., questioned a sentence saying that God's will was

"declared through prophets and apostles."

"It is happening now, even as then," he said, and then recited a list of modern Christian leaders he termed prophets and apostles.

The Rev. Dr. Elmer J. F. Arndt, a Webster Groves, Mo., theological professor, headed the commission which presented the proposed 230-word creed.

"It is true to the whole Biblical spirit as it has come down through the ages," he said. He said it was not intended to replace the ancient Christian creeds.

"They belong to our heritage," he said.

But he said the new statement aimed to "speak to our contemporaries in a way the more aged creeds and covenants could not do."

Whether the proposed constitution will be acted on at this meeting became a question Monday night after a move was made to submit it first to local churches for their study and recommendations.

At Monday night's session, the United Church presented a $1,000 check to Lobsenz Samden, brother of Tibet's Dalai Lama, to aid Tibetan refugees.

1958 County Relief Totals $417,437.25

Pickaway County relief expenditures for 1958 totaled $417,437.25 for all forms of indigent aid, it was reported today by the State Auditor's office.

Reflecting the hardships of last year's recession, relief expenditures by Ohio's 88 county governments hit a record peak of $116,907,608 in 1958, according to reports from county auditors tabulated by the State Auditor's office.

This was an increase of more than $23 million over the previous year in relief spending. It was the biggest jump ever recorded in Ohio in one year, officials said.

County expenditures involved in the $116 million spent for relief included poor relief, aid to dependent and crippled children, children's homes, county infirmaries, aid for the disabled, blind relief, soldiers relief and burials.

POOR RELIEF, amounting to $50,354,879, accounted for 43.37 per cent of all relief spending in 1958. Aid to dependent children was next with $26,547,654, or 22 per cent.

Children's homes took $12,479,149 (10.75 per cent); county infirmaries $10,042,665 (8.65 per cent); aid to the disabled, $7,607,352 (6.55 per cent); soldiers relief and burials, $5,447,792 (4.7 per cent); aid to the blind, $3,063,340 (2.64 per cent); miscellaneous, $554,778.

How all forms of relief except aid to the blind increased during a year of recession is shown in comparative totals for each in 1958 and 1957 (in parenthesis): Poor relief—$50,354,879, ($32,994,384); Aid Dependent Children—$26,547,654, ($23,705,092); Children's Homes—$12,479,149, ($11,701,783); County Infirmaries—$10,042,665, ($9,689,181); Aid For Disabled—$7,607,352, ($6,509,980); Soldiers Relief—Burials—$5,447,791, ($4,497,150); Aid to Blind—$3,063,340, ($3,116,038); Miscellaneous—$554,778, ($583,581), for a total of $116,907,608 in 1958 and $97,797,194 in 1957.

DiSalle Is Sharp Answering Critical Group in Cincinnati

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Cincinnati group calling itself the "committee to save Ohio" shot eight questions at Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, he told newsmen Monday, and the governor had eight rebuttals to the queries about the state's financial position and his tax program.

DiSalle, after slapping at the group by stating it did not even supply an address to which he could send his replies, proceeded to reply publicly.

"We are not attempting to pull the wool over people's eyes," the Democratic governor said in his five-page letter to the committee. "There is only one place from which to finance the programs (of government) and that is from the people themselves," he said.

He denied that the state was facing an "economic crisis" justifying a "25 per cent increase" in taxes. The tax increases actually are hardly 18 per cent, he said. As for the crisis, he said it came from the state operating for nine of the past 10 years by eating into surplus and spending more than it was taking in. Dissipation of surplus plus issuance of bonds meant Ohio spent one billion dollars more than it took in over the last nine years, he asserted.

Questioned whether much of the increased tax money is not needed, the governor said there are no luxury items in the budget. "Fiscal experts of various business groups, other research organizations, newspapermen" carefully examined the appropriation level, he said, and "we have yet to hear from any of them that the items included other than necessary expenditures."

Asked why the administration needs funds to hire 5,000 additional state employees, he said that outside of two areas—new mental health institutions and state institutions—the total number of employees will be "less than when

Defending a "300 per cent increase in the (corporation) franchise tax"—DiSalle pointed out the increase was 200 per cent, not 300 per cent—and said:

"Actually, responsible industry, generally, felt that the 3-mill levy was fair and would not injure Ohio's industrial climate."

Merged Church Debates Theology

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Whether Christ has conquered sin, or still is in the process of doing it, became an issue today at the general synod of the United Church of Christ.

It arose, along with other fine points in theology and semantics, as the new denomination sought to evolve a mutual statement of faith.

The job of ironing out the creed continued into the late hours Monday night, and it was not expected to be ready for a vote until Wednesday.

About 750 delegates, representing the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches, also began considering a constitution for their united denomination.

But it was the presentation by a 30-member commission of a proposed expression of belief late Monday that touched off the most sensitive wave of reaction.

The Rev. Michael A. Vallon, Danville, Calif., questioned a phrase saying that God in Christ has "conquered sin and death, and reconciled the world to Himself."

"I don't understand how you can say He has conquered sin and death when you see it all around us," the Californian said, and proceeded to elaborate on the distress and injustice still existing in the world.

He said a Biblical wording of the matter said that Christ "was reconciling" the world to Himself, but that didn't mean the task already was complete.

The Rev. Mr. Robert Adams of Buffalo, N. Y., questioned a sentence saying that God's will was

"declared through prophets and apostles."

"It is happening now, even as then," he said, and then recited a list of modern Christian leaders he termed prophets and apostles.

The Rev. Dr. Elmer J. F. Arndt, a Webster Groves, Mo., theological professor, headed the commission which presented the proposed 230-word creed.

"It is true to the whole Biblical spirit as it has come down through the ages," he said. He said it was not intended to replace the ancient Christian creeds.

"They belong to our heritage," he said.

But he said the new statement aimed to "speak to our contemporaries in a way the more aged creeds and covenants could not do."

Whether the proposed constitution will be acted on at this meeting became a question Monday night after a move was made to submit it first to local churches for their study and recommendations.

At Monday night's session, the United Church presented a $1,000 check to Lobsenz Samden, brother of Tibet's Dalai Lama, to aid Tibetan refugees.
